Russia Set For New Drive To Upset Western Unity

Democrats Join Forces To Beat Sen. Ferguson

By JACK I. GREEN
LANSING (P)—In the sad wake of Blair Moody's death, Michigan Democrats scrambled today to put together their shattered hopes of defeating U. S. Sen. Homer Ferguson (R-Mich) at the November polls.

Most party leaders said privately the Democrats will stand or fall with the only other member of their party in the senatorial primary: Patrick V. McNamara of Detroit, an officer of the AFL Steamfitters' Union, member of the Detroit School Board and former Detroit city councilman.

But still there was no public statement from the men who could summon the stunned party to McNamara's side: Gov. Williams and Neil Staebler, Democratic state chairman.

Governor Gone Fishing
Staebler remained unavailable and Williams failed to return on schedule from a fishing trip to Beaver Island in Lake Michigan.

The other leaders really looked to Williams to scotch a proposal that the Democratic State Central Committee choose a "sticker" candidate to substitute for Moody on the Aug. 3 primary ballot.

The party recalled that McNamara had attacked Staebler for allegedly showing a preference for Moody in the primary race. Traditionally, party leaders keep their hands out of primary contests. Some Detroit Democrats, committed to Moody, reportedly found it hard to switch suddenly to McNamara and boomed the "sticker" replacement plan.

Under this proposal, the central committee would select an official substitute, whose name would be pasted over Moody's on the already-printed ballots. However, Albert B. Pitt, the governor's legal adviser, said he did not think that was legally possible. Pitt said he thought the state law permitting "sticker" substitutes was intended for use only when death removed a political party's only primary candidate for an office.

Funeral Friday
Some Republicans speculated that Moody might win the nomination posthumously, such as occurred in the case of Sen. Charles McNamara.

GOING SOUTH AGAIN—Adm. Richard E. Byrd, noted polar explorer, is planning another expedition to the Antarctic. He made the announcement at the annual breakfast of the Poultry and Egg National Board in Cleveland, Ohio. Adm. Byrd pointed out the strange importance of the 6,000,000-square-mile Antarctic continent and said that there is still an area there as large as the United States that has never been seen by a human being.

Dixie Girl Wins Miss U. S. A. Title

By JAMES BACON
LONG BEACH, Calif. (P)—Miss South Carolina, a Dixie coed is the new Miss U. S. A.

Miriam Stevenson, 21-year-old college senior from Winstonsboro, N. C., won Wednesday night over 46 other entrants for the title which will pit her against 32 foreign beauties for the Miss Universe crown.

Asked if she knew she would have to lose her southern accent now that she has won a movie contract with Universal-International Studio, she answered: "Sho nuff."

The winner has perfect measurements: 36-inch bust and hips and 24-inch waist. Her 120 pounds are well distributed over a 5-foot-6 frame.

She had come here without luggage except for an evening gown which she had designed herself and a bathing suit which contest officials gave her. That was all she needed.

Her luggage, lost on an airliner that brought her here last week hasn't caught up with her yet. Runners-up in the contest were in this order: Miss Virginia, Ellen Whitehead, an 18-year-old Chatham, Va., brunette; Miss New York State, Karin Huitman, 22, of Rochester; Miss New York City, Renee Roy, 23-year-old actress, and Miss Texas, 20-year-old Betty Lee of Austin, one of the tallest girls in the contest.

Jet Base Offered

PETOSKEY (P)—The Petoskey Chamber of Commerce Wednesday moved to interest the Air Force in locating a proposed jet base at Pellston. The chamber sent messages in behalf of the Pellston site to President Eisenhower and Rep. Short (R-Mo.), chairman of the House Armed Services Committee. Selection of a tentative site for the base in Benzie County has drawn protests as being too near the Interlochen Music Camp at Traverse City.

Government Deficit Less Than Expected

WASHINGTON (P)—President Eisenhower announced today the government "made a better showing than expected" in the fiscal year just ended by winding up $3,029,000,000 in the red on June 30. That was a deficit of a quarter of a billion dollars less than Eisenhower had predicted for the fiscal year 1954 in his January budget forecast for the same year in his final budget.

And it was $6,411,000,000 below the $9,449,000,000 by which the government overspent its income the year before.

The presidential announcement, based on the Treasury's statement of the nation's finances on June 30, closing day of the fiscal year, was handed to reporters by Presidential Press Secretary James Hagerty.

The 7½ per cent reduction from the deficit predicted in January—when the fiscal year was half done—was achieved, Eisenhower said, despite a sharp fall in the government's income under the predicted level.

The government's receipts in the 12 months ended June 30 ran 3 billion dollars lower than predicted, the President said, but the administration meanwhile whacked spending 3½ billion dollars below what had been forecast.

All-European Defense Treaty To Be Proposed

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (P)—Top U. S. officials believe the Kremlin will follow up the Indochina peace agreement with a reinforced drive to break the Western powers' anti-Communist alliance.

They expect an early and vigorous renewal of Soviet proposals for an all-European defense treaty in which Russia would join. That plan was offered as an alternative to the European Defense Community treaty which the United States strongly urges.

Britain Cautious
Washington would like to see Western unity tightened and strengthened in the wake of the Geneva settlement.

The State Department is understood to be seeking to speed up consultations with Britain, France and other friendly governments on the formation of a Southeast Asian alliance. However Britain is reported still to be taking a "go slow" line.

There is no fear here of a Communist renewal of open military aggression in Indochina. The fear is rather that the Reds will use political and economic pressures and subversive tactics to undermine South Viet Nam, Cambodia and Laos and eventually take them over.

Big Gain For Reds
Secretary of State Dulles was quoted as having told the House Foreign Affairs Committee at a closed session Wednesday that this country had helped to obtain terms at Geneva "which would, to a degree, mitigate the effect of the military settlement upon the peoples of the Indochina area."

There was little comment in Congress, and no disposition to picture the settlement as anything but a gain for the Reds. Senate Republican Leader Knowland (Calif.) termed it "one of the greatest victories for the Communists in a decade." Sen. Robertson (D-Va.) predicted Congress will be asked for two or three billion dollars more for defense.

American officials are convinced that there is no evidence yet that the Soviets have given up their major strategy of continually expanding their areas of control with the eventual aim of world conquest. The belief is that they are simply going about this in a different way.

Chicago Bus Collides With Tractor-Trailer; 13 Persons Injured

CHICAGO (P)—Thirteen persons were injured today in a collision of a city bus and a tractor trailer at Cicero and Foster avenues, in the northwest part of Chicago.

At least two of the bus passengers were injured seriously. All were taken to hospitals. Police said the driver of the tractor-trailer, Richard Fuller of Pontiac, Mich., was suffering from shock and hysteria and could not be questioned immediately. He was taken to Swedish covenant Hospital.

The tractor overturned after the crash, but the trailer remained upright. The bus, east bound on Foster avenue, was pushed to the southeast curb by the collision.

Decision Of France Awaited In Rearming Of Germany In EDC

PARIS (P)—Premier Pierre Mendes-France arrived home from Geneva today to place before the French National Assembly the Indochina cease-fire pact he promised to deliver and to start the push for the rest of his three-point "Save France" program.

The most crucial point in the program—in Western eyes—is the role France intends to play in the disputed European Defense Community. Before he left Geneva, Mendes-France heard the United States and Russia present last minute arguments for and against the international armistice plan to rearm West Germany.

Soviet Pressure On
Russia's V. M. Molotov reminded the French Premier of Russia's objections to the defense community idea. The Soviet foreign minister apparently hoped the Reds' agreement to an Indochina peace at Geneva would persuade the French the Red bear now is so docile German troops are not needed.

But at dinner Wednesday night U. S. Undersecretary of State Walter Bedell Smith told Mendes-France that the United States still feels the EDC is the key to West Europe's defense against Communist aggression.

Britain has joined the United States in urging that France give quick approval to the one-uniform army plan.

"Cruel Sacrifice"
When Mendes-France made his dramatic bid for France's premiership a month ago, he outlined a three-point program: 1. Settlement of the Indochina conflict by July 20. 2. Submission of a coherent, detailed program for internal economic recovery, provided the Assembly gives him the powers necessary to implement it. 3. Presentation to Parliament of suggestions to help it decide on a policy for a united Europe—in other words, EDC.

Mendes-France called the plan which would put German soldiers in uniform along with the troops of five other West European countries "one of the gravest problems of conscience that has ever troubled a country."

The Assembly's immediate attention today was focused on the Indochina peace agreement, which aroused mixed emotions in France and which Mendes-France himself described as a "cruel sacrifice" for his country.

In return for peace, France has agreed to yield up the northern half of the key coastal state of Viet Nam, to neutralize the rest of Indochina, and to give the Communists a chance to win the rest of Viet Nam in elections to be held in two years.

Many senators had remained close by through the night, however, napping on cots set up in the cloakrooms or on couches in their offices. There seemed scant prospect of any final vote before late in the day at the earliest.

Jackson Prison Shifts Overflow

LANSING (P)—Michigan's prison population is continuing to edge up toward the 10,000 mark. Gus Harrison, state corrections director, reported today.

The high this week was 9,470, compared to 9,400 in June. At the time of the first riot at Southern Michigan Prison, in April, 1952, the count was 9,402.

"We're not trying to crowd any more into Jackson," Harrison said. "We're sending the overflow to the conservation-prison camps, Marquette Prison and the Ionia Reformatory."

Harrison said the usual trend is for the prison population to decline during the summer. "We're startled that it hasn't slipped," he said.

Corrections officials will meet with the "little legislature," or Emergency Appropriations Committee, Monday to ask for $225,000 for construction of a 150-man dormitory to house prisoners at Ionia to help ease the overcrowding.

Postal Pay Bill Pushed; Raise In Rates Rejected

By B. L. LIVINGSTONE

WASHINGTON (P)—House members, after rebuffing the Eisenhower administration's bid for higher postal rates, raced today to force before adjournment action on a controversial pay raise for half a million Post Office employees.

Administration leaders lost out Wednesday in an all-or-nothing effort to pass a one-package bill to boost postage charges by 233 millions a year and postal workers' pay by 5 per cent.

Brought up under procedure requiring a two-thirds majority for approval, the measure mustered a 228-171 vote, 38 short of the needed majority.

Immediately, enough members signed a petition to force out of a committee pigeonhole an administration-opposed bill to raise postal salaries 7 per cent.

San Diego Votes Fluoridation Out

SAN DIEGO (P)—The only people drinking fluoridated water in this city of 460,000 today, after getting it in their public supply for a year and a half, buy it in bottles or treat it themselves.

They are admittedly few. Neither side in the highly controversial issue over fluoridation of water for its purported dental health property offers any estimate.

Fluoridation was voted out in June, 50,789 to 44,463.

It had been started in 1952 by action of the City Council after a series of public hearings.

One of the principal arguments of those favoring repeal of the council's order for treatment of city reservoirs was that citizens who wanted it could get the same result from private supplies.

The only bottled water company in the city delivering fluoridated treated water, in one and five gallon bottles, said there had been a sharp increase in demand.

Principal opponents of fluoridated water said it was detrimental to the general health. Others objected on religious grounds.

Big Tax Overhaul Program Assured Of OK Next Week

By CHARLES F. BARRETT

WASHINGTON (P)—Republican leaders today predicted final congressional approval, possibly next week, for the biggest tax overhaul program in 75 years.

A House-Senate conference committee late Wednesday agreed on a compromise version of the big bill to cut taxes next year for millions of individuals and many business firms—a total of about $1,363,000,000.

Boost For Business
President Eisenhower has hailed the plan as the cornerstone of his entire domestic program, predicting it would encourage business growth, remove scores of inequities and lead to more and better jobs.

But Sen. Douglas (D-Ill.) served notice today he would renew, when the measure returns to the Senate for final action, a running fight many Democrats have waged against one provision in the bill—a cut in income taxes on dividends received by corporation stockholders.

On this politically touchy issue, the conference committee agreed to permit taxpayers to deduct their first $50 of dividend income. In addition, they could subtract 4 per cent of their remaining dividends directly from the tax bill they otherwise would pay. A man with $10,000 income from dividends could get a tax cut of slightly more than $400.

Treasury Loses
This was a compromise between a more liberal House plan which would have allowed a deduction of $100 and a tax credit of 10 per cent on dividend income; and a more restricted Senate provision which would have permitted only the $50 exclusion. The compromise version is expected to cost the Treasury about 204 million dollars the first year and 363 millions annually when it takes full effect.

The bill, running almost 1,000 pages, revamps almost every tax law on the books, at least technically. However it does not change major rates.

Most of the tax cuts would be effective for the tax year which began last Jan. 1. They would show up in returns filed next March. The 4 per cent tax credit for dividends applies to dividends received after July 1, 1954.

It permits scores of new or bigger deductions for medical expenses, depreciation, retirement income, child-care expenses, dependents who make more than $600, sick benefits, soil conservation outlays, and other items.

Both Senate and House Republican leaders foresaw easy approval next week.

Hot Wire Ends Old Partnership
COLUMBUS, Ohio (P)—Death, high on a utility pole on a storm-swept country road, has ended the 30-year partnership of two veteran electric linemen.

Sixty-eight-year-old Reber Brown lost his last fight to save his buddy, Harry Finks, 69.

Finks was on a pole near Reese Station early Wednesday, repairing broken lines during a thunderstorm, when a swinging wire sent 6,900 volts of electricity through his body.

Brown called for help on the repair truck radio. Then he climbed the slippery, wind-tossed pole to his partner's dangling body and tried to give him artificial respiration. When help arrived Finks was taken to a hospital. He was dead when he got there.

Finks and Brown were well known as a team of linemen in Central Ohio where they worked for the Ohio Midland Light and Power Co.—Finks for nearly half a century. Brown for 30 years.

They had had their brushes with death before. About a year ago, Finks "got some pretty bad burns." Brown was hurt last month when his spurs slipped and drove his shoulder against a pole. Both times, one helped the other to safety.

But now that Finks is gone, Brown says he is retiring. "That was my last fight," he says. "I'm not going back any more."

Hillsdale Wife Crawls Into Icebox And Dies
HILLSDALE (P)—A 59-year-old farm wife took her life Wednesday night by crawling into an ice box and pulling the door shut behind her.

Coroner Harley Brandon, who returned a suicide verdict, said Mrs. Glyde Phetteplace removed the food and shelves from the icebox before she crawled in. The woman's husband, Earl, who found the body, could give police no reason for his wife's action.

Three Candidates For Governor Drum Up Campaign Issues

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Republican candidates, seeking the party's nomination for governor, were on the road Wednesday discussing bonuses for Korean veterans, highway expansion and care and treatment of the aged.

Donald S. Leonard, former Detroit and state police commissioner, told a political rally at Alpena he intended to use his influence to obtain the bonus for Korean War veterans.

Secretary of State Owen J. Cleary was in Grand Rapids where he urged the expansion of highway service to the western part of the state.

State Treasurer D. Hale Brake told his Marshall audience he wanted more research into the care and treatment of the aged.

Leonard said the 350,000 veterans of Korea were as much entitled to a state bonus as were the soldiers of other wars.

He pointed out the bonus issue will be on the ballot in November, calling for authorization of an $80 million bond issue.

Cleary proposed that a study be made of a Detroit-to-Muskegon toll expressway. He said this would be in addition to making US16 a four-lane divided freeway.

Cleary said the same type of freeway is needed over the present US131 from the state line to Petoskey and the approaches of the new Straits of Mackinac bridge.

Brake said more research into the care and treatment of the senile would solve a serious hospitalization problem and also attract new doctors and psychiatrists.

Ducks Can't Swim
Denton, Ga. (P)—A pair of ducks that can't swim are living evidence of the drought in this area.

When they had reached the age of eight weeks without ever seeing a puddle big enough to paddle in, their owner, Eddie Williams, 6, decided it was high time they got the chance.

He filled a tub with water, tossed them in and stood by to watch. And a good thing he did, too. Eddie barely saved them from drowning. Now the ducks and won't go near the dangerous stuff.

Balloon Blows Up; Test Gondola Falls On Drummond Island
SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich. (P)—A giant balloon being used in cosmic ray studies burst at 50,000 feet Wednesday and dropped its 800-pound gondola into a swamp on Drummond Island.

The oxygen-equipped gondola carrying mice, fruit flies and other specimens was recovered. Its automatic parachute handled its descent.

The gondola was spotted from the air beside an island lake, but it took Otto Winzen, who is conducting the experiments for the Air Force, three hours to reach it and for a time he was feared lost in the dense swamp. A Coast Guard boat picked him up on the Lake Huron shore.

Showers Possible Here Late Friday

Escanaba was again the warmest spot in the Upper Peninsula when the mercury climbed to 77 degrees yesterday afternoon, says S. E. Decker of the Escanaba Weather Bureau.

There is a possibility of showers or thundershowers late tomorrow which, if they materialize, would relieve some of the fire hazard in the wooded areas throughout the county. But chances are slight that there will be showers in this area, Decker said.

Over the Upper Peninsula, cloudiness will increase and scattered showers will start in the extreme western part of the peninsula. Depending on the movement of the air system, this area may receive its share of rain.

Not much change in temperature with the weather remaining cool and the skies clear until tomorrow evening is the forecast, Decker said. The high recordings will be in the middle 70s while the low forecast for tonight will be around the lower 50s. Houghton recorded 40 last night to be among the coolest spots in the country.

Dramatic changes in the weather took place in the last couple of days throughout the country. The most notable one was at Havre, Montana where on Tuesday afternoon 101 degrees was recorded. Yesterdays high at the same spot was 64.

Many Fine Acts In Shrine Circus

Escanaba is in for a pleasant surprise, Saturday and Sunday, when the nationally famous Polack Bros. Shrine Circus comes to the U. P. State Fairgrounds for matinee and night performances each day.

This is the circus that the Saturday Evening Post, in a feature article in a February edition said "the circus that never closes, has no big tent, no menagerie and no side shows and plays to over two million Americans and Canadians every year."

The circus will arrive here late Friday night from Eau Claire, Wis., by train, truck and trailer bringing about 150 circus people, including some of the world's most famous stars.

Performances will be given twice daily at 2:15 p. m. and 8:15. The show has the longest season of any circus, starting in January and closing in Philadelphia, in late November. The same program will be here that plays all the metropolitan cities, without any changes or deletion.

Heading the two and one-half hour program is the world famous Wallenda high wire act, unequalled in circusdom. Another top ranking feature is the Swedish Cresso known as the Rocket Car daredevil who is making his first American appearance with the Shrine circus. Imported from Europe, this is his first tour with any circus.

From France, come the Geraldos, man and wife, who perform on the double trapeze in aerial adagio stunts. Hollywood's world famed motion picture Tarzan elephants, are in a featured act.

Reserved seats are now on sale at Gust Asp's in Escanaba, for all performances.

Local Fisherman, Victim Of Vandals, Chided By Caller

A third phone call was placed last night to Charles Meyer, commercial fisherman, who had the motor of his fishing boat smashed beyond repair last Monday night.

This time the call was placed by a woman who said, "Well, you got what you were looking for, didn't you?" Meyers reported.

After Meyers told the woman that the phone was tapped, she hurriedly hung up. Meyers was unable to trace the call.

The sheriff's department and conservation officials are investigating the act of vandalism that caused approximately $1,500 damage to the motor. What with the ruined fish nets in the bay and the smashed motor, total damages are estimated to be close to $3,000, Sheriff William E. Miron said.

The damaged motor belongs to Charles Meyer's two sons, Floyd and Jerome. Meyer is operating the boat until the boys are released from the Navy. Floyd had been on the U. S. Bennington when the ship blew up causing the death of almost a hundred men. Jerome is still serving overseas in the Korean theatre.

Officials are still trying to ascertain whether the act was caused by hatred or rivalry between either local fishermen or commercial fishermen from other cities.

The Ninth Federal Reserve District report also gives comparative figures for the month of June 1953 and 1954.

In June last year the total value of permits issued for new building totaled $28,300; for June this year the total was $81,400, a figure which includes a $54,200 school addition.

Hannons Honored On Occasion Of Golden Wedding

BARK RIVER—Many neighbors and friends gathered Monday evening at Gourley Hall to honor Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Hannon, who observed their golden wedding anniversary July 19.

Mr. and Mrs. Hannon were escorted from their home to the hall by Mr. and Mrs. Ray Berger, and upon their arrival, they were greeted by Mr. and Mrs. Howard Berger, who pinned a corsage of yellow roses with gold ribbon and a yellow rose on the bride and bridegroom of fifty years ago. For the occasion, Mrs. Hannon was attired in a sapphire blue silk crepe dress with white accessories.

Reception Program
Preceding the program, the "Wedding March" was played by Miss Crystal Wery, pianist, as the couple was led to seats of honor. Pastor Roy Eckerman of the Seventh Day Adventist Church acted as master of ceremonies for the following program:

"I Love You Truly," vocal solo, Mrs. Howard Berger; "It Takes a Heap O' Lovin' in a House To Call It Home," reading, Mrs. Roy Eckerman; "Silver Threads Among The Gold," vocal quartet, Mrs. L. A. Smith, Mrs. Frank Hahn, Mrs. Bob Hakes and Mrs. Ines DePas; "The Golden Wedding," reading, Mrs. Charles LaCount; "The Second Honeymoon," a humorous skit, Howard Berger and Blaise Hahn; "Put On Your Old Grey Bonnet," vocal quartet, illustrated by Mr. and Mrs. Kashmir Wodjakowski, attired in period dress; "Ma's Tools," reading, Miss Charlotte Berger; "This Is Your Life," quiz, Pastor Eckerman and "Together Life's Path We Tread," vocal solo, Mrs. Roy Eckerman.

Flower Decorations
The hall was beautifully decorated with a setting of ferns and a profusion of summer flowers. Both the flowers and decorations were in a color theme of gold and blue. A large arch was formed with white wedding bells centered by a blue velvet banner, lettered with "50 Golden Years." A three tiered wedding cake, inscribed with "50th Wedding Anniversary" was a gift of Mrs. Harold Mack. The couple received a nice gift as a small token of their esteem and the good wishes of their friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Hannon were married July 19, 1904, and they have been residents of Gourley since 1909. Mr. Hannon spent many years in the teaching profession. They have four children, Mrs. Ralph Plummer of Muskegon, Roger Hannon of Detroit, Herbert Hannon of Kalamazoo and Mrs. Joseph Kiekamp of Seattle, Wash.

Potato Crop Prospects Good

The potato crop looks good in Delta County, according to J. L. Heirman, county agricultural agent.

Weather conditions have been almost ideal for the potato crop but rain is needed now to keep them growing. The early plantings have set. An early set determines the number of tubers per hill and the size of the tuber.

Blight has not been a problem because weather has been warm and the temperature did not go below 50 degrees during the night. Farmers are urged by Heirman to keep spraying at regular intervals to keep the plants covered with fungicide to control blight. When the stalks of the plant start going down, it is hard to spray.

Watch for leafhoppers, the agent added. They will move in when green hay and pasture disappear. The leafhopper can do considerable damage and carry disease to healthy plants.

According to all information available at this time, it looks like the 1954 potato crop will be about 345 million bushels. This means there would be no surplus and should give potato growers a satisfactory price for the good grade potatoes.

The care they receive from here on out will determine what kind of potatoes you will be able to put on the market in the fall. Spraying for blight and insect control is most important, Heirman said.

Construction To Start Soon On New Sault Court House

SAULT STE. MARIE—Bids totaling $601,932 have been accepted by the Chippewa County-Sault Ste. Marie Joint Building Authority for the new city-county building. Sault City Manager Ralph E. Speer, a member of the authority reports.

The bids have yet to be approved by the State Municipal Finance Commission, and bids for the sale of revenue bonds to finance the construction of the building have to be called before construction of the building can begin.

Speer said that if everything goes according to schedule, construction of the building should begin by August 1. He said that no difficulties are anticipated which would delay the beginning of construction.

Military Brass Sold At Auction May Have Been Made Of Silver

SELBY, Ohio (AP)—Air Force officials here wondered if about 57 tons of silver had been mislabeled and sold as brass at a bizarre auction here Wednesday.

The Air Force auctioned off more than eight million dollars of surplus items at Wilkins Air Force Base depot.

Excitement spread among 1,000 spectators as 117,086 pounds of military decorations came on the block.

Reports began circulating that the decorations — marked in the sale catalogue as brass — really were silver. Bids on the decorations leaped from five cents a pound to $1.90 a pound. A later "brass" lot sold for $4 per pound. The crowd was stunned.

Col. Narce Whitaker, the depot commander, said he was "gravely concerned" over whether the decorations were brass or silver. He said final sales have been held up pending an investigation.

Although listed as brass, he said the decorations looked like silver. They included marksmen medals and parachutists' insignia, all items sold had been on public display earlier.

A local firm, Shelby Iron Metal

Co., bid $222,453.40 for 117,000 pounds of the surplus decorations. Later, the Topper Metal Co. of Akron bid $73,128 for 18,282 pounds of the stuff — whatever it was.

The government had hoped to realize at least 10 per cent of acquisition costs. The tally totaled more than a million dollars on items valued at eight million dollars. Most of the goods were unused.

Detroit Teller Spends $12,010

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A bank teller with 15 cents in his pocket was arrested by FBI agents at a Miami Beach hotel on a charge of embezzling $12,010 from the Industrial National Bank of Detroit.

Edward J. Powers, in charge of the Miami FBI office, identified him as Frederick Francis Coyne, 25, and said he admitted the embezzlement after questioning.

Powers said Coyne was well known in gambling circles in Toledo and Detroit and quoted him as saying all the $12,010 was gone.

Coyne, who is single, was employed as a teller at the Fennell-Lesure branch of the bank as recently as July 15, Powers said, despite the fact that he was convicted in Detroit in February on a check forgery charge.

Coyne was at liberty under one year probation on the forgery charge.

A federal warrant issued in Detroit charged Coyne with violating the Federal Reserve Act by making false entries in the bank's bookkeeping records.

The U. S. attorney at Detroit asked that Coyne be held in $30,000 bond.

Chief Magistrate John M. Murtagh said Wednesday that all persistent traffic violators will be given a choice — six sessions of a night driving school and a sentence based on their performance there-or a heavy sentence on the spot.

Murtagh said the new school scheduled to open Oct. 1, will give the drivers psychiatric examinations, driving lessons and safety lectures.

Editorials—

Allied Unity Is Desirable, But It Must Serve Freedom

UP until now, the chief significance of the Geneva conference has been its demonstration of the lack of Allied unity on major Asiatic policies.

Both the British and French accepted the idea that a military truce in Indo-China should be joined with a political settlement, though it has been apparent from the start that the only settlement the Communists would take would sooner or later work to the extreme disadvantage of the free countries.

The United States has felt all along this was the wrong approach. We did not believe any good could come from a political settlement at this time.

Moreover, on principle we could not possibly guarantee an agreement to place more millions of people (the Indo-Chinese) under Communist slavery. Where Red domination already exists, as in Eastern Europe and parts of Asia, we do not acknowledge it as permanent.

Neither Britain nor France can in conscience ask this country to repudiate that principle. And they cannot expect us to see any virtue in a political settlement which can only benefit communism.

The French and the British might also agree to sit down immediately to initiate talks on a Southeast Asian alliance. The kind of strength an alliance would bring is the kind that would carry weight with the Communists at the bargaining table. The Reds cannot be expected to be impressed by the territorial withdrawals of the French in Indo-China.

Western unity is now, as always, a desirable thing. But it cannot be bought at the price of an agreement to hand over sizeable chunks of land to communism, under the pretense that we are thereby making the world safer for freedom.

Freedom Calls

IN years gone by, Germany, France and other European nations were regarded as the great educational mecca for the world. Now matters are reversed, and foreign students are streaming to America.

Altogether some 107,000 students are attending universities outside their native countries. Of these, about one-third—35,000—are enrolled in 1500 U. S. schools.

The survey which produced these figures did not probe the reasons for the shift, but guesses are easily hazarded.

European universities generally cannot command the resources of old, so their research facilities have suffered. Furthermore, war and its aftermath have done serious damage to celebrated schools, though.

In contrast, American schools, though many are pressed financially as never before, are still flourishing. They are a great well-spring of freedom in a world where untrammelled thought and imagination have too little chance to go their independent way.

Other Editorial Comments

DISHONEST AND DISLOYAL

(Grand Rapids Press)

No sympathy need be expressed for nor leniency shown Joseph D. Nunan Jr., who has been found guilty of income tax evasion. If any man should have known better, it was Nunan.

He was head man of the bureau of internal revenue from 1944 through June, 1947. Before that he had been collector of internal revenue in Brooklyn, N. Y. In both of these positions it was his job to see that other individuals paid their income taxes, and all their taxes.

The tax laws did not provide a double standard under which the ordinary citizen, was required to declare all his income and pay all his tax, while permitting a bureau official to declare only a part of his income and pay the tax on only the part he declared. Yet Nunan operated as if such a provision did exist. And he continued to operate that way after he had left government service.

He was guilty not only of these criminal actions but also of disloyalty to the country and to his job. No penalty the court may levy against him is likely to be considered too drastic by the 40,000,000 other income taxpayers in the nation.

Escanaba—A call has been sent out for assistance in picking the Delta County bean crop which is heavy. Help has been very hard to secure.

Manistique—Pfc. Ted Dugas, Pvt. Walter Nelson, Lt. William Hentschell, and Lt. Col. John Kelly, all of Manistique, met by mere coincidence one rainy day in England, according to word in a letter from Dugas.

Manistique—Erastus T. Orr, 84, pioneer resident of Manistique, taken by death. He came to Manistique in 1873.

Today In Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—Communist colonialism is about to be substituted for French colonialism in Indo-China. That's the story in brief of the biggest defeat the free world has suffered since the bungling of the Truman-Acheson administration lost China through the withdrawal of moral support from the Chinese Nationalist government at a critical moment.

Now 10,000,000 people are to be handed over to the Communists in Vietnam and another 12,000,000 will come under Communist control in a few months in the rest of the area, along with the rich rice-growing delta and other natural resources of tremendous importance in the march of Communist imperialism.

The governments of France and Britain helped to engineer what amounts to a fateful surrender. The United States is disassociating itself from the settlement but, in deference to its allies, has given the wholly superfluous promise that it will not attempt to disturb the agreement.

"Peace," said Secretary of State Dulles at the opening of the Geneva conference on April 28 last, "is always easy to achieve—by surrender. Unity is also easy to achieve—by surrender. The hard task, the task that confronts us, is to combine peace and unity with freedom."

There will be sighs of relief that the eight-year war in Indo-China is over. There were similar sighs of relief when the Korean armistice was signed last year and, indeed, there were similar expressions of popular satisfaction in 1938 when the Chamberlain government made the deal with Hitler whereby a large segment of Czechoslovakian territory was surrendered.

Then it was that many Britons said: "After all, why should we worry about a few million Czechs?" But in a year they were fighting in a world war to retrieve that mistake.

Today in many parts of the free world, including this country, the same sort of comment is heard: "Why should we worry about a few million Asians?"

WEAKNESS OF FRANCE

But if the peace of the world is disturbed by reason of an arrogant action of the Communist imperialists as they become convinced that there never will be any real resistance to further aggression, then it will not be a few million Asians but many millions of Europeans and Americans who could become involved in a global conflict.

For the defeat incurred by the free world cannot be glossed over in spite of the fact that, whenever any fighting comes to an end in any area of the world, there is always a tendency to feel that some progress has been made. The stoppage of fighting in 1918 and in 1945 followed a clear victory in each case by the allies against the aggressor. The Indo-China truce, like the Korean armistice, is not a victory but a readiness to compromise with aggressors and to sanction their continued hold on many million more people who are to become enslaved.

Were there any alternatives? The responsibility for what has happened must be placed on the peace-at-any-price politicians in France who constantly undermined the morale of their own troops and gave the Communists their opportunity to convert a haphazard and weak movement of Nationalist rebels into a full-fledged military operation wherein Red China supplied much manpower and Soviet Russia furnished much equipment to thwart the highly trained French army.

Throughout Asia the white man now will lose face. The nations which might have been encouraged to become our allies may hesitate. The chances of making an effective southeast Asia pact depend entirely on whether the French government means to complete the scuttling of Indo-China and whether the British will wait until the conflagration touches Malaya before begging the United States to save them.

ENSLAVEMENT SHOWS

Indo-China could have been kept from the Communists if the French had been willing to internationalize the war. But, while outwardly they wanted American military aid, actually they feared it would prolong their own participation. Premier Mendes-France came into office to liquidate an already bad situation. The French nation had wearied of eight years of war and was ready to call it quits. The Premier announced to the world that he was ready to make a deal—and the Communists exacted a high price.

So now, with Red China in the process of virtually annexing North Korea in defiance of the U. N. resolution declaring her an aggressor and with a virtual annexation of the rich areas of Indo-China, the Communist coalition is advancing to its biggest triumph. The net effect on Japan and on Indonesia, Burma and Thailand will be as discouraging as it will be to the enslaved peoples of Poland, Czechoslovakia, Bulgaria, Rumania, Hungary, Latvia, Lithuania and Estonia—all of which just a few years ago were free countries.

Plainly the trend in Europe on the part of America's allies is toward further surrender to Communist imperialism. This is ominous because some day the allies will wake up to the imperative need of taking a stand. The Communists will think it a bluff, as they have regarded every action of recent months. In the end, a third world war can come because there will be no way to avoid a showdown of arms. The Indo-China truce, like the so-called peace at Munich, may not prove a harbinger of peace but a precursor of war. It is an hour of great tragedy for the free world.

Questions and Answers

Q—Do most state legislatures meet every year, like Congress?

A—Only 10 of the 48 hold regular annual sessions and even some of those 10 must confine their activities to certain fields—such as taxation—in alternate years. The remaining 38 state legislatures meet regularly every two years. Thirty-four meet in odd-numbered years only, and four in even-numbered years. Some legislatures hold occasional special sessions when a particular need arises.

The Iceman Cometh

Roman Aristocracy Shaken, But Princess Picks Her Man

By ROSETTE HARGROVE

ROME—(NEA)—In fairy tales, it's usually the Prince Charming who marries the unknown girl. But beautiful, 20-year-old Princess Giovanna Pignatelli reversed this order when she married the man of her choice, obscure but handsome French actor Georges Brehat.

Roman aristocracy was considerably shaken by the event. There is no doubt that Georges Brehat could not begin to match his wife's long line of illustrious ancestors.

This girl-meets-boy romance began at the turn of the year. Giovanna had an appointment for tea at Rome's swankiest hotel, and ran across a group of French actors including Henri Vidal, whom she had previously met.

Vidal introduced her to his colleague, Georges Brehat, who had come to Rome to play a bit part in a film. It was love at first sight.

Early in June, Georges Brehat and Giovanna Pignatelli d'Aragona-Cortez—to give her her full title—were married at the French Embassy.

But the Italian authorities declared that this was equivalent to marriage in a foreign country and insisted they would have to go through the usual formalities if they wanted to be married in Rome.

So the young couple found themselves in the unusual position of being married without being married.

They lived apart for three weeks until the wedding was celebrated with all the pomp and circumstance worthy of a member of the Roman aristocracy at the historic church of Saint Agnes. Hundreds of people were invited to the ceremony.

Among Giovanna's illustrious forbears is Pope Innocent XII. He died in Rome in 1700, was recently beatified at Saint Peter's. Another is the fabulous conqueror of Mexico, Fernando Cortez.

PRINCESS MEETS BOY, GETS SAME — Giovanna Pignatelli d'Aragona looks over shoulder of her husband, Georges Brehat.

On her mother's side she is also a descendant of General Lafayette and entitled to favored treatment in the United States as are all descendants of the great soldier.

A tall, lissome blonde with deep blue eyes and a dazzling smile, Giovanna could pass for a Scandinavian. Her husband is tall, dark, in his early thirties. He was a member of Jean-Louis Barrault's theatrical troupe, and a couple of years ago played in 120 European cities with a touring company.

After a prolonged honeymoon in Capri, the Brehats plan to visit America, where his friends say he has an engagement to appear on TV. But the fairy-tale princess and her husband will stop off in Paris first.

To friends who commented on what was daring initiative for a member of the Roman blue bloods, Princess Pignatelli said: "I was determined to choose the man I married. I am sure I did the right thing. That's just exactly what love means."

Hot Rodders Playing It Safe

By JAN HARTNETT

AP Newsfeatures

CHICAGO — The Automobile Timing Assn. of America is organizing the nation's hot rods in a move to rid the highways of the menace of the "shot rods."

The ATAA is a non-profit organization which came into being in 1953 to operate a 1/2 mile "drag strip" speedway on an abandoned air strip at Half Day, Ill., a suburb of Chicago. The organization's expenses currently are underwritten by Arnold Maremont, a Chicago manufacturer of automotive products and a racing enthusiast.

Maremont says his company backs the ATAA program for its role in fostering highway safety and in developing future automotive engineers. This year's expanded racing program calls for supervised racing in 15 cities in eight states.

"The true hot rodder is proud of his title," Maremont says. "To him the public menace is the 'shot rodder,' who roars down public highways in a souped-up, defective jalopy thinking only of speed and never safety."

Maremont says ATAA now represents some 5,000 hot-rodgers in Illinois, Wisconsin and Indiana.

"We expect to go national soon," Maremont says. "Enthusiasm is so great that when ATAA invited 26 hot-rod leaders to a planning meeting in Chicago, 53 showed up." ATAA officials have been receiving inquiries about the "drag strip" program from several states.

"Unlike the reckless 'shot rodder,' Maremont continued, 'the hot-rodder builds for a combination of high speed with maximum safety. We feel that a 'drag strip'—a safe, off-the-street area—will provide a controlled meeting place where the hot-rodder could educate the 'shot rodder' in building for safety first, speed second."

A "drag strip" is a straight half-mile course. Usually it is laid out on abandoned air strips or unused sections of four-lane highways. In a "drag race" two vehicles race down the course. Their speed is electrically timed for the first quarter mile; the second quarter is used for safe deceleration.

Stiff ATAA safety regulations guarantee that every car is in perfect operating condition before it is permitted on the strip. Safety belts and crash helmets are standard equipment. In 25 Sunday days of racing at Maremont Speedway last summer there have been no accidents. Some races drew up to 3,000 fans and 300 entries. One ATAA contest at St. Charles, Mo. in November attracted 140 competitors and 2,000 spectators.

This summer Maremont will award a trophy and a university scholarship to the owner of the best-engineered entry in the Bonneville National Speed Trials. This "World Series of hot-rodging" is held each year on the salt flats near Bonneville, Utah.

Good Evening...

BELLS OF THE WORLD—How sweet the church bells sound on a calm Sunday morning in summertime—and how ominous is the sound of bells heard during a storm when angry waves toss the bell buoy marking the dangerous shoal.

Bells have had many uses in many countries around the world for many centuries. Yet to many people they mean only the sounding of hours of worship in a little country church or a big cathedral in the city.

Bells so small they are worn on necklaces to grace the necks of African belles can be compared with the great bell of Moscow, weighing 219 tons, which has never rung.

Bells call the worshiper to church, speed the dead on their way with their tolling ring out joyously at Easter and Christmas-time, and sound the hour on ships that sail the seven seas.

OF MANY METALS—There are bells of bronze, of silver, iron, gold, and even tin and copper.

Missionaries exploring Northern Michigan more than 300 years ago reported that the Indians had "bells" that sounded a cheery note in the dark forest.

These bells, if such they might be called, were made of pieces of native copper, pounded into thin sheets and rolled into cone-shaped ornaments. Strung pendant on leather thongs they tinkled merrily as they struck against each other.

African natives made large bells of wood, sounded them at ceremonial functions and to signal messages from one village to another in the jungle.

Besides making fine gold and silver bells, the Indians of South America turned out bells made of clay—precursor of fine little bells of glass made centuries later by Venetian artisans.

OLD AND NEW—The bell has become so familiar to people around the world that bell-shaped is a descriptive word understood by all.

From the ancient bells of bronze, the primitive bells of wood, to the fine bells of later centuries is a story largely connected with religious worship and the Christian world.

Bells in Europe probably did not exist before the time of Christ. But in China they had been used for more than 4,000 years, where bars of metal and metal instruments shaped like plates, called cymbals, produced ringing sounds when struck.

The cup-shaped bell dates from the fourth century and its first use was to summon Christians to worship. Since then bells—to the Western World—have been closely associated with religious services.

There were other uses, of course, and in England in the Middle Ages a bell was sounded to notify the people it was time to "cover the fire" for the night. This bell was called the curfew, from the French couvre-feu.

THE FAMOUS BELLS — The size of bells increased through the centuries until they reached the gigantic in the casting in Moscow of the biggest bell in the world. That bell weighs 219 tons—but it has never rung. A piece weighing 11 tons broke from it when it was made.

Most of the famous bells are noteworthy for their size. There is a bell weighing 30 tons in a pagoda in Burma, the great Bell of Cologne cathedral, cast from metal captured by the French in 1870, weighs 27½ tons.

Big Ben, a bell in the clock tower in the House of Parliament in London, is not so big but it is known by name wherever the English language is spoken.

And in America, of course, the most famous is the Liberty Bell, which pealed forth the news of the signing of the Declaration of Independence.

In this modern world the bell on your alarm clock awakens you in the morning, bells summon children to school, sometimes bells are used to mark class periods, factories occasionally use bells as warning signals, and musical bells or chimes carry sweet sounds from many church towers.

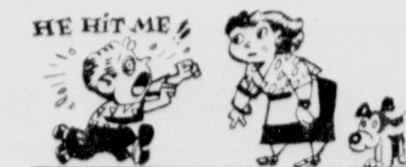

Yet the bell is passing out of the picture in this electronic age. Recorded sounds of chiming bells now issue from the bell-less steeples of churches new and old, replacing the heavy bells whose swinging weakened the structures.

Silver Nitrate Preparations Can Cause Skin Disorders

By EDWIN P. JORDAN M. D. — Written for NEA Service

A warning to parents and teen-age youngsters is contained in a letter recently received from Mrs. S. She asks whether anything can be done for her 15-year-old daughter who has dark-bluish coloration of the skin on her face.

The parents thought it was her heart but have been told by their doctor that it has come from using nose drops containing silver nitrate.

DEPOSITS OF SILVER stains in the skin do arise from using silver preparations over too long a period. The long-term use of such preparations is therefore to be avoided.

When the skin is troubled with such metallic deposits of silver it clears up slowly, at best. Occasionally, it appears to do so without treatment, but the only method of which I am aware was described in the Jan. 5 issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association in 1929. Evidently good methods of treatment are hard to come by.

TWO MOTHERS are faced with similar problems. One writes that her 15-year-old daughter pulls out her eyelashes and eyebrows with her fingernails. The other asks what can be used to stop her 13-year-old boy from sucking his thumb when he falls asleep at night.

Both of these complaints fall in the class of nervous habits. There is a good chance that both of these teen-aged youngsters are somewhat unhappy and suffering from some feeling of insecurity.

UNDERSTANDING AND affection on the part of the parents, an attempt to surround the youngster with calmness and the avoidance of too much attention to the nervous habits should eventually lead both youngsters to stop their undesirable habits.

A reader who signs herself E. B. O. asks the writer's opinion about having an Angora cat sleep in the room with her children. My opinion is that this is not desirable, and the children and their pets should be separated at night.

Mrs. G. says that her 5-month-old grandson has broken out with a rash which some say is a teething rash and some say is eczema. Most physicians do not accept teething as a cause for breaking out of the skin, and it would seem more likely that eczema or some other condition is at fault. One cannot help but wonder why the grandmother is trying to solve this problem.

People Getting Better, Says Columnist At 89

RICHARD T. WILEY at his typewriter

AP Newsfeatures
PITTSBURGH (AP)—Dr. Richard T. Wiley, columnist for the weekly Elizabeth (Pa.) Herald, is running out of material to write about. He is 89.

Wiley turns out three columns a week, two on local history and another called "Wiley Wit and Wisdom." He thinks he is the oldest working newspaperman in the country.

Starting as a typesetter at 19, he has been almost continuously with the Herald since then. In 1876, he became editor and publisher. He is also the author of several books, which brought him an honorary doctorate of literature from Washington and Jefferson College, of Washington, Pa.

Thank Malenkov For Happy Childhood

TOKYO (AP)—The Communists are offering magazines and books at less than cost to put across their way of life in a country where family budgets allow little reading matter.

American weekly news magazines printed in Japan give publishers a slight profit at 70 yen a copy. Monthly pocket size magazines sell of 100 yen. But well printed magazines from Red China and Russia sell for as little as 20 yen.

Russian and Red Chinese publications cost news dealers nothing. Even so, few news dealers handle red publications.

Red salesmen also offer school books at less than publishing costs to parents of school children. Each book carried this theme:

"Thank you Father, Malenkov for a happy childhood."

U. S. Forests Lure Thousands

WASHINGTON—The National Forest Service in 1954 will play host to 35 million vacationers and sportsmen.

Each year more campers, picnickers, hunters and fishermen are "discovering" the 153 national forests in 40 states, Alaska and Puerto Rico, the National Geographic Society says.

Unlike the national parks, where original scenic beauty is preserved with as few man-made changes as possible, the national forests operate on a utilitarian basis. Careful conservation measures, however, are always heeded.

Timber Shows a Profit

Managed by 15,000 college trained foresters, national forests last year produced almost half a billion dollars worth of lumber, paper and pulp materials, one-sixth of all wood products marketed by the Nation's mills. Private timber concerns operating on government-owned land paid into the United States Treasury over $70,000,000, enough to show a good profit.

In 1891 when congress passed the first forest reserve law, indiscriminate cutting was fast depleting the country's usable timber supply. The new law imposed drastic restrictions on government-owned lands. Grazing, hunting and fishing were forbidden. No timber was to be cut.

Shortly before the turn of the century, however, a movement began which eventually transformed the national forests from a "park" status of preservation to an active role in the nation's economy, managed "for the greatest good of the greatest number in the long run."

Cornell University established a four-year forestry school in 1897. Another school was started at Biltmore, N. C., in 1898 and a third at Yale in 1900. These schools trained men to use forest resources without irreparable destruction.

A forest conservation pioneer, Bernard E. Fernow, became the first head of the Agriculture Department's forestry division.

Fernow, Gifford Pinchot and succeeding directors made many changes. Sizable timber "crops" were harvested each year. Thousands of miles of public access roads were built. More than 4,400 camping and picnic sites were developed. Waterways opened to pleasure-seekers. Hunters and fishermen were welcomed to well-stocked fields, woods and streams.

Reduced Forest Fires

An educational program sponsored by the Forest Service reduced the waste of public and private timber and grasslands through fire.

Soon owners of private timber lands found it profitable to follow the Forest Service's example, and many now practice conservation as a matter of policy. They take only part of the standing timber at each cutting, leaving immature growth for stock, and they reseed cutover areas for future harvest.

An important phase of the Forest Service program is to aid control of the Nation's water supply. In many sections, particularly the arid western states, water exceeds all other resources in value. Careful handling of timberlands has curbed waste of water and of valuable topsoil through erosion, thus increasing the productivity of millions of acres.

Aid To McCarthy Says He Was Once Member Of Club Called Red

WASHINGTON (AP)—Thomas W. Lavenia, office manager of the McCarthy subcommittee from whom the Defense Department has withheld security clearance, said he once was a vice president of an organization Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) has termed an "affiliate" of Communist fronts.

But Lavenia said he attended only one meeting of the organization, the American Law Students Assn., on the night of Dec. 26, 1939 when it elected him vice president. Lavenia told a reporter he was a student at the St. Johns University law school in Brooklyn, N.Y., at the time, and added:

"I went to the meeting as president of the Student Council of the law school, and at the request of Dean George W. Matheson and Vice-Dean John P. Maloney."

McCarthy, hotly critical of the Defense Department for withholding clearance from Lavenia, told his Senate investigations subcommittee Tuesday he knows of no other reason on which the department may have based its decision. The Pentagon has refused to explain its reasons.

McCarthy himself, in Senate speeches in 1950, had denounced Philip C. Jessup, then U.S. ambassador-at-large as a man with an "unusual affinity for Communist causes" and pointed to Jessup's relationship with the American Law Students Assn. as one reason for the accusation.

The association's 1936 letterhead listed Jessup as its "faculty advisor." Lavenia said he is the man whose name appeared on the same letterhead misspelled as "Thomas Lavenia," a vice president.

In his Senate speeches, McCarthy described the association as "affiliated" with the American Youth Congress and the American League Against War and Fascism, both of which have been cited by the attorney general and the House un-American Activities Committee as Communist fronts.

New Bill Rough On Subversives

WASHINGTON (AP)—Anyone convicted of trying to overthrow the government by force, or even advocating it, would lose his citizenship under terms of a bill passed by the House.

The administration measure was on its way to the Senate today for action.

President Eisenhower proposed such treatment for open subversion in his State of the Union message last January.

Conviction under the House bill would mean a native-born American would become an alien in the eyes of the law. Loss of citizenship for seeking violent overthrow of the government would not automatically lead to deportation. This would only follow such forbidden act as voting in a foreign election, committing treason or swearing allegiance to a foreign flag.

Persons born in the United States who thus became subject to deportation would be sent to the country they choose, if acceptable there. Those who had been naturalized citizens would be sent back to their homelands.

Friendly Nations Plan Defensive Alliance

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States, Britain and other friendly nations have agreed to call an international conference late next month to write a defensive alliance designed to protect the non-Communist lands of Southeast Asia against Communist conquest.

Highly placed diplomatic authorities said an announcement of the meeting is expected shortly.

The agreement was reached, these officials said, among Secretary of State Dulles, Undersecretary Walter Bedell Smith, British Foreign Secretary Eden and others at Geneva after it became certain that the fighting in Indochina would be ended by negotiated peace with the Communists.

The United States has proposed that 10 nations make up the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization. The makeup of the projected meeting remains to be worked out.

Jet Plane Disappears With Lansing Airman

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—An F86E Michigan Air National Guard jet plane peeled off from formation, went into a dive and disappeared into darkness 10 miles south of here Wednesday night. A search began today.

The plane, en route from Wayne Air Force Base at Detroit to Ontario, Calif., was piloted by Capt. G. G. George of Lansing, Mich.

He was flying wing for Capt. L. A. Erickson of the Michigan Air National Guard as the two planes were making an instrument approach to Kirtland Field here.

Erickson said Capt. George, a veteran of the Korean War, had indicated he was having trouble of some kind, but neither knew exactly what it was.

Safety Expert Tells Why Careful Drivers Have Most Accidents

DETROIT (AP)—Why do careful drivers who travel at moderate speeds under good driving conditions have most of the nation's traffic accidents?

The question is raised by Harold L. Smith, safety expert and driving instructor, in the current issue of Collier's, weekly magazine. The answer, he says, is that "careful drivers have so many accidents because they do not recognize traffic hazards quickly enough."

Smith, who has supervised driving instruction classes at the Detroit YMCA, Ford Motor Co. and Michigan Bell Co., gives these safe-driving rules to make the average motorist accident-proof:

1. Keep your eyes alert for driving conditions well ahead—at least half a block in town, half a mile in the country.
2. Master the machine; learn how to control your car under any emergency condition.
3. Steer at your target; aim your car always at the center of your traffic lane. Most head-on collisions are caused by drivers who swerve blindly to the left into the path of an oncoming car at the slightest hint of danger to the right.
4. Force your eyes to keep moving in a regular pattern, checking the road ahead and to the sides, and glancing into the rear-vision mirror at least once every 20 seconds.
5. Never drive blindly. Always be sure that you're not driving too fast to stop safely within the limits of your clear-driving path. You should leave at least one car space ahead for each 10 miles of speed.

These rules, Smith says, "can save your life."

Widow Left Alone As 3 Fishing Sons Drown One By One

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—Once there were five in the fishing Smith family.

Then in the early 1930s Mrs. Mary Smith's husband drowned at the family fishing site near Tynnek, 60 miles west of Anchorage. His body never was recovered.

The widow, with three sons to rear, continued to go annually to the fishing grounds, superintending operations that were the family's main source of income during the season until the boys were able to take over.

Three years ago one of the sons, Roland, drowned at the same spot his father had perished.

Last year, another son, Byrne, drowned on a hunting trip on the Olympic Peninsula in the state of Washington.

Gerard, 26, the last of the sons, carried on, Monday, his duty, its bow stove in like it had struck a barge or scow, was found at the spot where father and brother had died. His body has not been recovered.

Now Mrs. Smith, almost totally blind, alone remains.

Wall Street

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market headed higher with a big rush today but lost a great part of its forward momentum by early afternoon.

The steels and oils were in heavy demand with gains going to between two and two points while the aircrafts were under pressure with losses of that amount.

Trading was at a pace better than 2½ million shares for the day compared with 2,510,000 shares traded Wednesday.

Higher stocks included U. S. Steel, Bethlehem Steel, Youngstown Sheet & Tube, Follansbee Steel, Chrysler, Goodrich, American Telephone, American Tobacco, Vanadium, General Foods, Great Northern Railway, Royal Dutch Petroleum, Texas Co., and U. S. Gypsum.

Chief Of Bonn's FB Disappears

BERLIN (AP)—Police announced today Dr. Otto John, West German anti-espionage chief, went to Communist East Berlin with a friend Tuesday night and that a note left behind indicated he would not return.

The West Berlin police announcement followed by a few hours a statement by the West German Interior Ministry that John was believed kidnapped by the Communists.

John was last seen boarding a taxi in front of his hotel on the evening of July 20, the ministry said, and "neither he nor the taxi has been seen since."

"All clues gathered to the present time," the ministry said, "indicate that Dr. John is the victim of an abduction into the Soviet zone."

John's official title is chief of the federal office for the protection of the Constitution. The office is charged with guarding against treason, espionage and activities endangering the democratic state. Though its powers are more limited, it handles duties much as the Federal Bureau of Investigation does in the United States.

News of the 45-year-old executive's disappearance was met with consternation comparable to that which might arise in the United States if FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover vanished mysteriously.

itionally has happened in local elections. They said that Moody's death might be unknown to many voters, or that anti-McNamara Democrats might use that method of rejecting him.

In this case, the central committee can pick a nominee to represent the party on the general election ballot.

This talk was not taken seriously at the Capitol.

Meanwhile plans were set for a solemn official funeral. Moody's body will lie in state at the Detroit City Hall from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m. Friday. Funeral services will be held at the Hamilton Funeral Home in Detroit at 11 a. m. Friday. Burial will be in Woodland Cemetery. The Michigan National Guard will provide a guard of honor.

Weary Senators Argue All Night On Atomic Bill

lines of the Tennessee Valley Authority.

Democrats Assail Plan

This private power would replace energy TVA is supplying to the AEC's plant at Paducah, Ky. The private plant would replace a proposed TVA steam plant for which Congress thus far has refused to provide funds.

A group of Democratic senators, with the support of Sens. Cooper (R-Ky), Langer (R-ND) and Morse (Ind-Ore), assailed the proposal as costly and as a move to undermine TVA. Administration backers called it the cheapest way to obtain power needed in the area.

Eisenhower told his news conference Wednesday that anyone who says he is seeking to destroy TVA is in error to put it mildly.

After defeat of the Anderson proposal, the Senate adopted a rival amendment by Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich) specifically to authorize an AEC contract with the private power group. Voice vote approval was clinched on a 56-35 rollcall.

Convicted St. Louis Labor Racketeer Loses Court Appeal

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Paul H. Hulahan, St. Louis labor leader convicted of racketeering, has lost his appeal.
The U. S. Court of Appeals ruled Tuesday there was "no doubt under the government's evidence that Hulahan was guilty of conspiracy to extort, of attempts to extort and of actually, in two instances, extorting money from the construction companies . . . by means of expressed or implied threats of labor trouble."

Hulahan, business agent of the AFL Building Laborers Union here, received a 12-year prison term and an $8,000 fine for trying to extort $50,000 from a contractor.
Hulahan now is serving a seven-year term for taking part in the theft of a $50,000 whiskey shipment.
With business at its peak, Connecticut paid out more than eight million dollars in unemployment compensation in 1953.

Six Americans Held In China To Be Freed

GENEVA (AP)—The Chinese Communists have agreed to release six Americans held in Red China, the U. S. delegation announced.
The announcement said: "The Chinese Communist representatives have stated further that the cases of other detained Americans are still under review."
American officials here believe the Chinese Reds are holding in prison or otherwise detaining about 24 additional Americans.
Those to be freed were named as Ernest Hotz, Reuben Lenzer, Linus Lombard, John B. Maye, Lawrence Mullin and Alfred Peter Pattison.

Maye is the Rev. John B. Maye, a Roman Catholic missionary from Scranton, Pa. Roman Catholic headquarters in Hong Kong reported three weeks ago that he had been held under house arrest in Changsha for 10 months.
Lombard also is a Roman Catholic priest. He was last reported waiting at Ichang for permission to leave Red China.

Rockets Common At Alamogordo

By LEIF ERICKSON
ALAMOGORDO, N. M. (AP)—The fantastic has become routine in little more than five years at Holloman Air Development Center.
Any week and every week rockets can be shot 90 miles up into space, carrying incredibly complex electronic instruments to ask questions and get answers on what's what up there.
For instance, one mission of the last 20-foot Aerobee rocket whooshed upwards from the White Sands desert floor was checking wind velocity and direction in the upper atmosphere.
The rocket itself hurtles upward at supersonic speed—not very much less than a mile a second or 3,600 miles an hour.
All the rocket checks—on temperature, radiation, light and chemical changes—have a military purpose. Missiles are being developed that fly or will fly in these altitudes. Instruments to guide these missiles must be perfected.
The Air Force Cambridge Research Center, at Cambridge, Mass., assigns rocket missions to such schools as Michigan, Colorado, Utah and Rhode Island Universities and correlates the findings.
The Holloman center provides the testing ground.
Holloman, an abandoned wartime B29 base whose barracks were blowing apart in the desert winds in 1947, now is a massive science fiction layout of radar cones, blockhoused instrumentation centers and airstrips.

Mares And Zebra To Be Mated By Michigan Farmer

GALESBURG (AP)—“It's funny. People just don't believe you when you tell them you have a zebra in the back of the truck.”
But if people are surprised, then what are the horses going to think when Zev, a 3-year-old zebra, is turned loose in their midst.
An even bigger question is what next year's foals are going to think. Some of them may be wearing stripes.

Eats Anything
Zev the zebra was imported from Africa by Dale Kirklun, owner of the Walnut Manor Farm near Galesburg, for breeding purposes.
Kirklun says:
“Zebras have been a pure strain so long their characteristics carry over into the horse. The offspring have stripes and should have the speed of the zebra too.”
But Kirklun will wait until Zev becomes “adjusted.” Warns Kirklun:
“He gets the same food as a horse—but lots more. He'll eat anything, including fingers, I think. That's why we'll have to be careful about people coming out to see him.”
“We don't mind visitors but Zev is a wild animal.”
After the adjustment Kirklun says Zev will undoubtedly mate with “two or three mares this fall along with a couple of burros and three ponies.”

Tried In Florida
Kirklun, who knows more about horses than horses do, says that a horse and zebra have been bred in Florida. The owner calls it a Z-horse. The dictionary calls such a breed the zebra, but you could just get simple and call it a hebra. That would be putting the horse before the zebra.
Kirklun worries about one factor. “Will his cross-bred offspring be sterile?”
“No one seems to know. When you cross a jackass with a mare, the resulting mule is sterile. The zebra is close kin to the jackass family,” Kirklun says.
But with all his bright-eyed hopes, Kirklun is just as ready for failure. He looks at the cage that Zev came in and says:
“That mahogany crate will make a dandy bookcase for the wife.”

Battle Creek Makes Lots Of Adjustments Since War Boom Days

BATTLE CREEK (AP)—Battle Creek, which thrived during World War II as Michigan's biggest military center, has had to make a lot of adjustments in the seven years since hostilities ended.

Its postwar achievements include expanded recreational and play facilities, addition of more than 100 schoolrooms to the city's school department, and establishment of 10 off-street parking lots with facilities for 1,200 cars to ease a critical parking problem.

Streets Take Beating

The thousands of servicemen who manned four installations in and near Battle Creek during World War II left postwar Battle Creek with a number of acute problems.

Streets, which had been pounded by heavy military convoys from nearby Ft. Custer, were pock marked with holes. The water distribution and sanitary sewage system were inadequate to meet the needs of the city. It had grown rapidly with the addition of hundreds of families of men stationed at the fort, Percy Jones Army Hospital, Kellogg Air Force Base, and the Battle Creek Coast Guard Training Station.

In many instances, following their discharge at the end of the war, these service men joined their families here, found jobs and became permanent residents of the community.

Tax Limit Lifting

Battle Creek citizens quickly sensed the need for action, and in order to provide funds for the many projects, they voted to shake off the shackles of the 15-mill tax limitation before the state legislature acted to remove this limitation from other Michigan cities.

Among street improvements completed from 1947 through 1953 are 34,682 lineal feet of street widening to relieve traffic congestion; 176,265 feet of concrete curbs and gutters, and 93.5 miles of paving. In order to finance the construction of new sanitary sewers, a $400,000 revenue bond issue was sold and the money used as a revolving fund to finance special assessments for sewers over a three year period.

A total of 127,156 lineal feet or slightly more than 24 miles of new sewers have been built, and work is under way on an additional five miles this year.

Parking Lots Built

Expansion and rehabilitation of the water distribution system was financed with a $1,200,000 revenue bond issue, which has made possible improvements costing a total of $1,500,000. New wells were drilled and old pumps replaced. New mains—a total of 100,125 lineal feet or nearly 20 miles—were built and additional storage facilities constructed to assure the city an ample supply of water at all times.

New streets were developed to facilitate the flow of traffic and relieve congestion on the existing downtown business streets.

Another revenue bond issue—this time for $750,000—was sold to finance the parking lot program. The lots, near the heart of the business district, range in size from 15 spaces to 433 spaces.

A lighted baseball stadium has been constructed at Bailey Park, and here the American Baseball Congress' "little world series" for amateur champions is staged each September.

Bathing Beach Improved

A new municipal park has been developed in the southwest section of the city and a new public bathhouse has been built at the municipal bathing beach at Goguac Lake.

Two new elementary schools, one with 16 rooms and the other with 18, now are being built and will be ready for use this fall, and another school is being considered for early construction.

On three occasions, segments of adjoining townships have been annexed to the city.

A comprehensive master plan to guide the future growth of the city has been adopted, along with an up-to-date zoning ordinance and building code, and the city commission is actively carrying out the provisions of the master plan.

In April, 1947, just as the city was beginning its post-war projects, Battle Creek was struck by the most devastating flood in 40 years. Since then flood control has been a major problem, and the city's flood control program is now before Congress for approval.

Safety Problems Studied

With the mainlines of the Grand Trunk and New York Central railroads bisecting the city—one to the north and the other south of the downtown business district—the railroad and grade crossing problem also is acute.

Tentative plans have been completed for grade separations over the proposed joint zone, and the city's Railroad Consolidation Board is proceeding with negotiations with the railroads, state highway department and other agencies to reach agreements on the final plans for construction.

A slum clearance program also is being developed, and federal approval of this plan is anticipated by early fall.

The condition of the "health city" is once again healthy, and its citizens are looking forward to a vigorous and healthy growth in the months and years to come.

Separated Louisiana Siamese Twins Are Year Old Thursday

LAFAYETTE, La. (AP)—Louisiana's famed Mouton twins, born as Siamese twins but separated by rare surgery a month later, will be a year old today.

Both are healthy, active children, though one must undergo another operation this fall.

Brown-eyed, dark-haired Carolyn Anne and Catherine Anne were born joined together at the base of the spine last July 22. On Sept. 17 they were separated at Ochsner Hospital in New Orleans in what is believed to be the first successful separation of this type.

They are the daughters of Mayor and Mrs. Ashton Mouton of Lafayette, in south Louisiana.

Catherine has undergone five operations—all that are needed. Carolyn, however, faces a visit to the operating room in a few months.

Surgeons are hopeful that both will be "completely normal." The problem with Carolyn is to give her a normally functioning lower intestine, but doctors are quick to point out that many persons, including athletes, live normal lives with intestinal bypasses.

Earnings Of Some Industries Offset Losses In Others

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Record earnings by some corporate giants are more than offsetting the more sober plight of half of the nation's business firms.

Early birds reporting on their second quarter net income after taxes show that more than half are running behind their 1953 figures. And 6 of the 49 to report so far operated in the red in the last three months—while only 1 did a year earlier.

But so rosy are the reports of some of the big boys that lumping the earnings of the 49 you get a net income total 7.4 per cent higher than the same companies chalked up in the April, May and June period of 1953—a period which for the nation's business generally saw an earnings peak until that time.

Of the 49, there were 23 with rosier statements this year and 26 who did better the year before.

Good gains in profits this year are reported by Du Pont and General Electric, although each had lower volume than a year ago. The end of the excess profits tax gets a large share of the credit.

Operating costs, too, are down for a number of firms—reflecting the use of new and more efficient equipment, and management economies.

Continental Can and Container Corp. also show good earnings increases. Others on the plus side include cement companies, utilities, food processors, and building material firms.

The majority of banks whose earnings statements are now available also show earnings gains this year.

But six companies report their operations in red ink for the three months just ended. Five of them are in the depressed textile industry and one makes railroad equipments.

The 49 companies so far reporting had combined net earnings of $298,532,311 for this year's April, May and June period, against a total of $277,859,891 in the second quarter of 1953.

This 7.4 per cent gain is unlikely to be the same figure that will measure the result when all corporations are reported—but it seems to indicate that final results will be close.

Cherry Farmer Is Confused

HAPEVILLE, Ga. (AP)—B. L. McLeroy says he is confused. He reports he transplanted a wild cherry tree from a field to his yard. The first year it bore cherries much larger than the usual wild ones. Next year, he insists, it produced apples which were small but at least grew like apples should, singly. Then it began producing apples clustered together like cherries. McLeroy won't be surprised if it comes up next with cherries the size of apples. But he can't explain the tree's habits.

Fine Brampton Man As Reckless Driver

Pleading guilty to a charge of reckless driving, Bill Aper, 19, Brampton, was fined $25 and assessed court costs of $4.30 following arraignment before Justice A. T. Sohlberg yesterday.

Aper also paid an additional $6.00 on two other tickets which had been given him previously, $4.00 for speeding and $2.00 for excessive noise.

He was arrested by Michigan State Police upon the complaint of Vance Winters of Rock.

Winters told authorities that Aper drove along side him for considerable distance on the highway and twice forced him to drive his auto off the road.

Muzzle-Loaders Still Used On Target Range

WASHINGTON — Kentuckians called it a "squirrel" or "hog" rifle; General Andrew Jackson's Tennessee volunteers called it the "Kentucky" rifle, the term still used by collectors and gunsmiths.

Whatever the name, the long-barreled, single-shot muzzle-loader was truly an American product. It developed in the gunsmith's shops of Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, and it played a major role in the history of the nation, says the National Geographic Society.

Thus, in summer when marksmen gather at shooting matches, many try their aim with the same brand of shooting iron used by Daniel Boone, Simon Kenton and other frontiersmen.

Annual Events Held

In its national matches at Camp Perry, Ohio, last year, the National Rifle Association scheduled special events for Kentucky rifle competition. The National Muzzle-Loading Rifle Association holds annual contests at Walter Cline range in Friendship, Indiana. Various local and regional matches feature the muzzle-loader at "turkey-shoots" and "beef-shoots."

The Kentucky rifle's design fulfilled the frontiersman's demand for a weapon particularly suited to the needs of the early American wilderness. Swiss and Austrian gunsmiths who had emigrated to Pennsylvania around 1700 brought with them samples of the Jaeger. Large calibered and stubby barreled, it made a lot of noise when fired and "had a kick like the blow of a hammer."

On their frequent visits to the gunsmith's shops, the backwoodsmen suggested improvements. Gradually, barrels were lengthened for better aiming, longer range and to quiet the bang. Inside diameter (bore) of the barrels was reduced to save lead; stocks were given more curve at the butt, better to fit the shoulder.

About 1734, the year Daniel Boone was born, the pioneers started using a greased "patch" in loading. This small piece of homespun linen or wool (or tanned buckskin) was dipped in bear grease or mutton tallow, wrapped around the lead ball, and inserted atop the black powder charge with a ramrod. The patch helped clean and lubricate the barrel's rifling and provided an air-tight seal for the powder gases, increasing velocity.

Fired By Flintlocks

Early Kentucky rifles used a flintlock firing mechanism. Around 1825, the Forsythe percussion cap was developed, using a fulminate of mercury priming charge in a metal case. Many of the old muzzle-loaders were converted but the flintlock also continued in use. Flintlock models today are rarer than the "cap-and-ball."

The Kentucky rifle sparked American victories at King's Mountain during the Revolution and at New Orleans during the War of 1812. It was used by Confederate soldiers when newer weapons were scarce in the South.

Now it is a collector's item, with good specimens selling for $100 and up. Some elaborately decorated models are considered almost priceless.

One of the first public clocks in America was installed in 1727 in the First Congregational Church at Guilford, Conn., and was operated in three successive churches until 1892.

EARLY IMPLEMENTS
Crude stone implements known as "eoliths," represent the earliest known handiwork of man. They were chipped out by the cave men at the beginning of the Stone Age.

During their visit to Gladstone they also will be taken on a tour of the city and area adjacent to acquaint them with sites for the possible location of new industry.

They will leave Gladstone for Sault Ste. Marie where they are scheduled to meet at 6:30 Saturday evening.

MEMO TO ADVERTISERS

The Hallmark of Circulation Value

In the same way that STERLING on silver signifies a standard of known value, so is the A.B.C. emblem a symbol of integrity for the circulation of newspapers and periodicals. It means that circulation so identified is measured according to the rules and standards of the AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS.

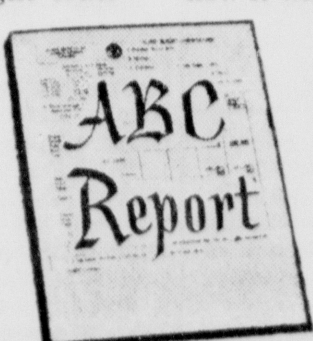

The A.B.C. is a cooperative and non-profit association of 3,450 publishers, advertisers and advertising agencies. Organized in 1914, these buyers and sellers of advertising brought order out of advertising chaos by setting up standards for paid circulation and establishing rules and methods for measuring, auditing and reporting circulations.

Therefore, the work of the A.B.C., of which this newspaper is proud to be a member, provides you with a direct and valuable service. You can buy advertising as you would make any other sound business investment — on the basis of well known standards, known values.

At regular intervals one of the Bureau's large staff of experienced circulation auditors makes a thorough audit of our circulation records. The results of this exacting audit show: How much circulation we have; where our circulation goes; how it was obtained; and many other FACTS that you need in order to know just what you get for your advertising dollars. This audited information is published by the Bureau in easy-to-read A.B.C. reports which are available to our advertisers on request. Ask for a copy of our latest A.B.C. report.

McCabe Fires Sizzling 35 To Move Into U.P. Finals

BULLETIN

Joan McCabe, red hot redhead who is setting fire to the Upper Peninsula Women's Golf Association tournament, this morning licked men's par at the rugged Gladstone course with a sizzling 35 as she moved into the finals which will be played this afternoon.

The former Green Bay ace (she was Miss Joan Coffeen before her marriage) beat Ruth Needham of the Escanaba Golf Club, 8 and 7, in the semis this morning. In the other semifinal match Frances Gadbais of Menominee was leading Miss Carolyn Johnson, Escanaba Highland Club, 1-up on the 7th hole.

McCabe, a slender slugger, has found the difficult Gladstone course easy to solve. She set a tournament course record for women by qualifying with a 36 Monday. She blasted another 36 Tuesday and her 35 fired today climaxed her assault on par.

In the beaten four flight this morning Dorothy Coulter of Gladstone led Millie Johnson of Marquette 2-up after nine holes and Marie Wicklander of Highland led Dorothy Anderson of Escanaba Club 2-up after nine.

GLADSTONE—Joan McCabe, Pine Grove Country Club, Iron Mountain, Ruth Needham of the Escanaba Country Club, Frances Gadbais of the Menominee North Shore Club and Carolyn Johnson of Escanaba's Highland advanced Wednesday to the semi-finals of the Upper Peninsula Women's Golf tournament being held on Gladstone's course on the Days River.

Today Mrs. McCabe plays Mrs. Needham while Mrs. Gadbais faces Miss Johnson. Mrs. McCabe went into the semi-finals with a 6 and 5 victory over Marie Wicklander of Highland. Mrs. Needham scored a 2-up victory over Dorothy Anderson of the Escanaba Country Club and Mrs. Gadbais after being down two on the 5th rallied to win 2-up over Millie Johnson, Marquette, 1952 U. P. champion. Carolyn Johnson of Highland shot sparkling golf to defeat Dorothy Coulter 7 and 6. Miss Johnson had a 40 on the first nine holes.

Tea At 4

Semi-finals in the championship flight, the championship consolation and finals in all other flights were played this morning. The finals got under way at 1:30 this afternoon. An awards tea about 4 will conclude the tourney.

In the championship consolation, Jane Empson rallied after being 3 down and won 2-up from Mrs. Elsie Fardal. Katie Van Donsel scored a 5 and 3 victory over Gladys Hanson of Highland and Sally Johnson, Gladstone, won 7 and 5 from Doris Swanson of the Escanaba Country Club. Millie Boyce won 1-up on the 19th to defeat Margaret LeMire. Mrs. Boyce and Mrs. LeMire were even on holes and score at the 18th and then Mrs. Boyce parred the 19th to win. As a result Mrs. Empson

13 Women Best Club Golf Pro

Thirteen women in a field of 35 turned the trick in the "beat the pro" event at Escanaba Golf Club yesterday.

Club professional Jim McNicoll issued the challenge against women members of the club. All contestants drew their regular club handicap plus three strokes.

McNicoll toured the nine holes in 38, two over men's par. A six on No. 9 opened the gate for a half dozen of his competitors.

Four women came in with classy 33s, including Mrs. James Rouman whose 48 gross was low for the day. The others were Mrs. James Hall, Mrs. John Lemmer and Mrs. Robert Thyberg.

Registering 34s were Mrs. Roy Garver, Mrs. Jean Smith and Mrs. D. H. Boyce. In the 36 bracket were Mrs. Dana Peck, Mrs. John Bissell, Mrs. H. F. Everett, Mrs. Clyde Lepisto and Mrs. Harry Hogan. Mrs. H. F. Lindsay shot a 37.

Moore Doubts Stanky Sugar

MILWAUKEE—There seemed to be some doubt in the mind of Philadelphia Phillies' manager Terry Moore Wednesday night about the sincerity of the sugar-and-cream apology made the other day by manager Eddie Stanky of the St. Louis Cardinals.

"He said the same thing in 1952, right after he got the job, but the reform didn't last long," said Moore, who was involved in the fracas last Sunday at Busch Stadium in St. Louis. Moore, a Cardinal coach in '52, was released a short time later by Stanky and the two haven't been exactly friendly since then.

Moore chuckled when someone mentioned that the Cardinals had beaten the Phillies, 5-1, Monday night under the direction of coach Johnny Riddle while Stanky was under suspension.

"Yeah," said Moore, "and things were a lot different in the dugout the boys tell me. Why, they said some of the Cardinals were even smiling and I heard somebody say it was too bad Stanky didn't get the whole season off."

REDSKINS PRACTICE

The Gladstone Redskins will practice at the Bay Shore Diamond at 6:30 this evening. A business meeting will be held after the practice session and all players have been requested to be present.

In the first meeting of the teams on June 6 the Barks were extended before winning 12-8. It was the third win of the season for Bark River and since then manager Babe Kleiman's club has added four victories and one defeat for a 7-1 mark, second only to Loretto's 8-0 unblemished record.

Perronville rests deep in the second division with one win in seven starts. The win came July 4 over Hardwood, last place team, by 8-7.

Loretto will travel to Hardwood Sunday and Daggett will be at Niagara.

Westby's Scores 10-8 Victory Over Eagles

Westby's handed the Eagles their second loss in National League softball play last night by a 10-8 score in eight innings.

Westby's won with a pair of runs in the eighth for Dick Anderson who went the route on the mound. Chuck Guoin and Ron Nelson shared pitching duties for the losers.

Little League Stars Picked For Tourney

The Escanaba Jaycee Little League all-star roster, selected by managers of the four-team league, is described by loop president Dr. Alfred Gossan as one of the strongest ever fielded for tournament play.

The all-stars will again participate in the District Seven tournament which includes Wisconsin, Minnesota and Upper Peninsula. Eight teams will compete, with other districts holding elimination tournaments to determine the clubs which enter tourney play.

"The all-star roster is unusually strong this year. That means that some players who would have made the team in other years were unable to land a position this season," the league president stated.

All-star team managers this year are Laurence Erickson of the Rotary team and Bob Stumm of the Lions.

Players named to the all-star team are Richard Erickson, LeRoy Lancour, Don Hansen, James Pinar, Tom Eliegrist, Dick Olson, Dick Stasewich, Rod Greenwood, Kris Fitzpatrick, John Wellman, Barry Andrews, Phil Davidson and Bob DeGrand.

In regular league play last night Dick Erickson pitched St. Joe to an 8-4 win over the Kiwanis team.

Esky Cubs Top Powers 6-4 For 6th Straight

The Esky Cubs carved their sixth straight Waubung League victory at Powers yesterday afternoon, 6-4, in a makeup contest.

Ricky Erickson fired the win, allowing five hits, fanning an even dozen and walking four. Three of the Powers hits came in the seventh inning in which they scored two of their runs.

The Cubs opened scoring in the first when Denis McGinn doubled to score Allen Erickson who had singled. They added another in the fourth when Erickson poled a homer with none on.

A Powers homer by pitcher Pouppore with Don O'Neil on base tied the count at 2-2 in the fifth.

Escanaba broke loose for four runs in the sixth inning to sail away the decision. Dave Viau opened with a single and Allen Erickson singled for his third hit of the game. Both runners scored on a steal and two Powers errors before Joe Juetten singled and

Bobby Layne Inks Three-Year Pact

DETROIT—Bobby Layne, whose passing arm has paced the Detroit Lions to two straight National Football League titles, is ready to try for a third successive championship.

The 27-year-old Texan signed a three-year pact with the Lions Wednesday, cutting the Detroit squad's list of unsigned veterans to nine. The 200-pound quarterback was due today at the Lion's Ypsilanti training camp for opening drills.

Although exact figures were not disclosed, the new pact was expected to make Layne the highest paid quarterback in team history.

Layne, a six-year veteran with the Lions, ran and passed for 2,431 of the 4,121 yards gained last year when the Lions successfully defended their league title. His passing arm accounted for 2,088 of those yards and 16 touchdowns. He completed 125 of 273 pass attempts.

Horseshoe Meet Gets Under Way

MURRAY, Utah. — Feel lucky when you toss a ring in that backyard game of horseshoes? Here are more than 50 men who feel definitely unlucky if they miss.

They are the entrants in the world horseshoe pitching tournament who play through the qualifying round today to determine the lineup for competitive matches which follow.

Take Ted Allen of Boulder, Colo., for example. He's the defending champion, the winner of last year's meet which also was held in this little Utah community a few miles south of Salt Lake City.

Allen got the title by winning all but one of the 35 games he played in a round-robin meet. He scored ringers 83.2 per cent of his throws—that's better than eight out of 10 tries.

Allen's lone defeat was by Fernando Isais of Los Angeles. In their clash Isais won 50-46. Each man threw 128 shoes. Isais got 101 ringers, Allen 99.

Guy Zimmerman of Danville, Calif. pitched a perfect game in the 1948 tournament in Milwaukee, 44 ringers in 44 tries.

Each entrant throws 200 shoes in today's qualifying round. He scores three points for each ringer and one point for each non-ringer that lands within six inches of the stake. The 36 men with the highest scores go on into the match play.

TV Will Cover Race Of Four-Minute Aces

NEW YORK —The first meeting of John Landy of Australia and Roger Bannister of England, since they became the first runners to go a mile in less than four minutes will be televised over NBC chain on Saturday, Aug. 7, it was announced today.

They will meet in the final of the British Empire Games mile at Vancouver if both survive the trials on Aug. 5.

Three singles by O'Neil, Pouppore and Page accounted for the two Powers runs in the final inning.

Sunday the Cubs will travel to Gladstone in a regularly scheduled league game.

Major League Pennants In Reach Of Only Five Teams

By BEN PHILGAR
AP Sports Writer

By now only five teams have serious ideas about reaching the World Series this fall but a whole lot of others in both leagues are still scrapping to see who will help out on the way.

Players on the first four teams in each league share in the World Series receipts.

It's generally conceded among all but the diehards that either the New York Giants or Brooklyn will be the National League representative against Cleveland, the New York Yankees, or the Chicago White Sox.

Four-Team Tangle

But in the National League four teams are bunched a game and a half apart from third through sixth place. Philadelphia holds third by a percentage point over Cincinnati and Milwaukee with St. Louis still a big factor.

The American League is running with a five-team "second division." Fourth place Detroit is 17½ games behind the third place White Sox, but the Tigers hold only a single game edge over Boston and Washington. Just eight games separate them from the tallied Baltimore Orioles.

Cleveland took a half game lead over New York Wednesday when the Yanks crumbled before Chicago 15-3 while the Indians were playing their second straight tie in Boston. Rain halted the 7-7 contest in the top of the ninth inning.

Giants Edge Cubs

The Giants maintained their seven-game advantage over Brooklyn with a 2-1 triumph at Chicago. The Dodgers tripped Cincinnati 5-1. St. Louis outscored Pittsburgh 13-12. Philadelphia defeated Milwaukee 6-1 and Washington shaded Baltimore 6-5 in other action.

Brooklyn's Carl Erskine retired the last 23 Cincinnati batters in order after Bob Borkowski homered in the second inning. Carl Furillo got five of Brooklyn's 15 hits. Erskine gave up two hits and struck out 10.

A pinch single by Bill Taylor drove in the winning Giant run.

Trinidad Champ Upset By Ward

CHICAGO (P) —Upset by tank-like Moses Ward of Detroit in his American debut, British middleweight and light heavyweight champion Volande Pompey still feels he's the new blood this country's televised boxing is seeking. "I just couldn't get started," said the powerful but somewhat slow puncher from Trinidad after dropping the 10-round decision before national TV cameras in Chicago Stadium Wednesday night.

"I fought better fighters and I can do better."

It was only the second defeat in 31 pro starts for Pompey who went into this one a heavy favorite. Ward, who posted his 19th victory in 26 fights, came out of the free-swinging scrap with ample respect for the West Indian.

"He's a very good puncher," Ward declared. "His left jab is as hard as the rights of a lot of fighters. It hurt me in the seventh round when he drove me to the ropes in the corner."

Pompey weighed 163½, Ward 162.

The low slug Detroit piled up his winning margin early and withstood Pompey's determined bid in the last three rounds. Judge Edward Hitz and Referee Frank Gilmer scored it 94 points to 92 in favor of Ward. Judge Frank McAdams called it a 92-92 draw.

The Associated Press scorecard was 97 for Ward, 93 for Pompey.

in the ninth inning at Chicago. Sal Maglie checked the Cubs on four hits.

Heavy Chisox Hitters

The White Sox scored five runs in the first and five in the ninth against the Yankees. Minnie Minoso and Johnny Groth collected four hits each. Virgil Trucks became the first American league pitcher to win 13 games but he wilted from the heat in the seventh and needed help from Morrie Martin and Harry Dorish.

Home runs by Jim Hegon, Al Rosen and Larry Doby lifted Cleveland from a 6-0 deficit into a 7-6 lead at Boston but the Red Sox pushed across the tying run in the sixth and kept it that way until rain intervened. The same two teams played a 17 inning tie Tuesday night.

Only five Milwaukee batters got on base against Robin Roberts and the only run off the Phils' ace was Eddie Mathews' 22nd home run, hit with two out and the bases empty in the ninth.

Pitchers Wear Out

Pitchers wore out the grass between the batters and the mound in Busch Stadium during the Cards-Pirates' 31 hit duel. St. Louis used eight, equalling the National League record; Pittsburgh five. The Athletics' victory over Detroit broke a 10-game losing streak. Joe DeMaestri, Lou Limmer and Jim Fingean hit home runs for the winners.

Washington wasted an early lead against Baltimore, then won in the ninth when an easy roller dribbled through Jim Brideweser's legs with the bases loaded and one out.

Tigers Lose As Sinker Balls Zoom For Homers

PHILADELPHIA (P)—The Detroit Tigers' hopes of sweeping the four-game series from the lowly Philadelphia Athletics went over the walls with gopher balls Wednesday night.

Normally a sinker is a tough pitch to hit. It comes up at you like an ordinary fast ball. But the bottom drops out as the ball gets to the plate. And there you are swinging at the breeze, or hitting an easy out.

For much of last night's game George Zuverink's sinker was working. At one span he put down 17 of 18 hitters.

Sinker Zooms Up
But the big Dutchman's sinkers rose three times and sailed off the bats of Philadelphia hitters over the walls to account for all the runs as Detroit went down to a 4-1 defeat.

The Tigers, who had swept a doubleheader from the last-place Philadelphia Phillies only 24 hours earlier, had hoped to win all four games in a battle to keep either Washington or Boston from knocking them out of fourth place. Instead, the Tigers take the field in Hatchery Stocks Streams In U. P.

All trout streams in Delta County, Luce County, Schoolcraft County, Mackinac County, Chippewa County and in the east half of Alger county, are currently being stocked with brown, brook and rainbow trout by the State Fish Hatchery at Thompson.

The streams are being planted for the third time this season, stocking having been carried on for the past six weeks. Hatchery officials hope to plant all streams once or twice more before operations cease the last day in August.

They hope to get as much "legal stock" into the streams as possible before September. Lakes and beaver ponds will be planted in the fall. The hatchery is now releasing brook trout averaging eight and one-half inches. When operations commenced the brook variety was averaging 16 inches.

Convicts from the State Prison Camp at Cousineau are engaged in excavating for an oil storage tank at the Hatchery. The plant will be heated by oil instead of coal in the future.

The conversion is part of a remodeling process directed towards changing the main unit of the Thompson station into an administrative building. In the future all hatchery will be done at unit two, one and one-half miles north of the main building.

Raids Catch 28 In Betting Ring

NEW YORK (AP)—Police have arrested 28 persons to break up an alleged gambling ring using purse-sized transmitters for high speed relay of race results and policy numbers across the country.

Agents of the ring were picked up here Tuesday in raids similar to those staged recently in a number of other major cities. Until recently, police said, headquarters of the ring was in Chicago.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Lawrence Peirez described the operation whereby the ring could get race results long before they were reported by other agencies. The ring also sent out parimutuel figures on which certain numbers rackets are based.

Peirez said the ring would station a man equipped with a portable transmitter at a track. He would signal race results to a man outside the track who in turn relayed the information to a nationwide hookup. This way the ring got betting information considerably before any other announcement of race winners.

Peirez said the ring included one "kingpin" numbers operator. Chicago police made 30 raids on the ring two weeks ago, Peirez said, but failed to catch any of the leaders.

Captured in the New York raids were six women and 22 men.

Hospital Burns; 12 Patients Safe

PONTIAC (AP)—Flames ripped through the upper stories of a three-story, wooden convalescent home Wednesday but firemen and attendants were able to evacuate the home's 12 patients without injury.

The Bloomfield Hospital, located in Bloomfield township of Oakland County, caught fire about 9:30 a. m.

Station attendant Ronald Walsh, 25, of Royal Oak, turned in the alarm. He said he saw smoke on the building's roof while a workman was busy there.

Five fire department trucks battled the blaze.

Three ambulances, working in relays, shuttled the home's patients to safety at nearby St. Joseph Mercy Hospital after a second alarm was turned in by the two nuns who were driving past the home.

Sister Mary Niceta said: "We decided they needed help and called the hospital (St. Joseph's)."

Mueller's Food Is Well Known

From a humble start six years ago, Mueller's Restaurant on M-35 has progressed steadily until today it is recognized as one of Delta county's most delightful eating places.

Today the Muellers have a beautiful little dining room among the pines which seats 43 persons. Their capricious tables as well as their spacious beach on Lake Michigan are open to the public. Specializing in fish dinners, "Hep" and "Essa" Mueller, as they are affectionately called, offer their guests "all you can eat". Equally as popular are their potato pancakes which they serve at any time. Hep says he is not recommended by Duncan Hines, but he is recommended by his customers.

Six years ago the Muellers opened a curb service lunch stand, measuring 8 by 10 feet, in their present location, five miles south on M-35. Improvements have been added each year and their clientele has increased, and today Mueller's is well known by tourists, walleye fishermen and local folks as well. They call it "a home away from home". The restaurant is open from May to October each year, serving food from 8 a. m. 'til midnight. (adv.)
